DRAFT EXAMINATION

Will Begin in This City Tomorrow Morning at Seven O'clock—Board Preparing Lists for Future Calls

The examination of men called for by the selective draft for Alexandria county and city will begin at seven o'clock tomorrow morning in the City Council chambers. Dr. E. A. Gorman of this city will be in charge of the medical examination and will eb assisted by Dr. George T. Klipstein of Alexandria and Dr. R. A. Quick, of Clarendon.

The work will be expedited as rapidly as consistent but just how much time will be required to complete the examinations necessary to secure the quota of 153 is, of course, not known. A total of 102 men were called for tomorrow, 102 for Wednesday and a similar number for Thursday. Should the requisite number not be obtained after these have been passed upon others will be called for in the order in which their names appear on the lists as forwarded from Washington. Those names are now being arranged by the board.

One man, who had read a notice erroneously published in a Washington paper, appeared for examination this morning but was told that the examination would not start until tomorrow.

According to reports from other parts of the state about seventy-five per cent of the men called for examination have asked for exemption, based on the plea of having dependents to support. Should the same ratio be found here the examination will necessarily take up several days more than the three set for it.

DOESN'T LOVE KAISER

Empress Zita, of Austria, Has Old Score to Settle.

Perhaps the Empress Zita of Austria in her efforts for peace is trying to pay back a score she owes the German Kaiser. The Kaiser once tried to prevent the marriage of "little Zita" and the present Emperor of Austria-Hungary. Had the War Lord succeeded Zita would not now be Empress. She probably would be in a convent. Several of her near relatives occupy important positions among the sisters in the convent at the Isle of Wight. She herself was and is deeply religious. And she had loved Charles Francis, her husband, and him alone, since childhood.

A London cable a few days ago stated that a close friend of the Empress had informed certain members of the House of Commons that Queen Zita is exerting her influence strongly in the interests of France. Charles Francis, by his prayers for peace and seeming leanings in that direction, evidently has caused nervousness in German high circles. Every now and then word slips out of Vienna that the Kaiser or his representatives have made hasty trips to Vienna for the purpose of curbing Charles Francis' ardor for peace.

It has been said that Empress Zita's efforts arise from the fact that she is a descendant of the Bourbons of France. Yet their are other reasons. For instance, the Empress comes from a duchy which is a part of Italy. And the Kaiser is the man who would have trampled roughshod over her affections.

Glasses Will Not Exempt.

Wearing glasses doesn't exempt any man from the draft. The provost marshal general's office thus answers hundreds of inquiries on the point.

As each man wearing glasses comes up for examination, his aids to sight are taken from him. Each eye is examined separately. If he passes the Government test, he is accepted, glasses or no glasses.

If he has only one good eye, and the other isn't too defective, that one good eye will get him into the army.

Mexicans Slackers

El Paso, Tex., Aug. 6.—Although arrests have not yet begun here, Government officials engaged in checking up the draft registration estimate that 1,000 Mexicans, either native born or naturalized American citizens of draftable age, had failed to register.

Arrests are expected to begin as soon as the work of checking the draft rolls is completed.

900,000 MEN IN SERVICE

Draft Will Double That Number—Largest Army Assembled Since Civil War.

A total of 900,000 men are under arms for the United States Government in the war with Germany.

This force, the largest assembled in the United States since the civil war, will be increased to 1,500,000 within a month, when the draft army is called out, and to 2,000,000 when the second levy of drafted men is summoned within the next few months.

The armed forces at present are divided as follows:

National guard	550 000
Regular army	295,000
Navy	137,000
Marine corps	29,000
Naval reserves	35,000
Reserve and student officers	40,000
11 engineer regiments	11,000
National guard reserves	4,000

This force has been nearly tripled since war was declared in April. At that time the combined strength of the army and navy was little more than 200,000 and discharges of men with dependents had reduced the national guard to 100,000.

The army of 900,000 now under arms represents a volunteer army called to colors in advance of the million to be drafted.

Opposes Submarine Warfare.

Amsterdam, Aug. 6.—In a character sketch of Dr. Richard von Kuelhmann (just appointed German secretary for foreign affairs), the Nieuwe Courant of The Hague says that Dr. von Kuehlmann has always been a vigorous opponent of ruthless submarine warfare. He is also, says policy of doing everything possible to avoid the further alienation of Great Britain believing that after-the-war friendship between Great Britain and Germany is necessary to the latter.

Dr. von Kuehlmann, the Nieuwe Courant adds, is an anti-annexationist, and the newspaper expressed the opinion that in the foreign secretaryship he will do his utmost to bring about an understanding with England at the earliest possible time.

Can Try for Commissions

Professional men in medicine or dentistry, who have been drafted and have been accepted by the local boards are not deprived of applying for commissions in the medical or dental reserve corps, the War Department ruled today.

The draft regulations prohibit voluntary enlistments in the army, navy, or marine corps after the registrant has been notified to appear for physical examination, but no bar is placed on a drafted man applying for a commission is he is skilled in medicine or dentistry.

Germany Harder to Leave.

Berlin (via London), Aug. 6.—Neutrals desiring to leave Germany are now advised to file their applications at least four weeks in advance, as police permits to leave the country cannot be issued until the military authorities have acted on each individual application.

Three thousand such applications from neutrals were recently on file in Berlin alone, and the action on each individual request invariably consumes from three to four weeks.

Women Work as Shopmen.

Cumberland, Md., Aug. 6.—Twenty-one women are taking the places of men as laborers and helpers in the shops of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad on account of the former shopmen having entered military service. The shopwomen wear overalls and low heeled shoes and a cap.

The Baltimore and Ohio railroad inaugurated the employment of women laborers the early part of May.

Three Subs a Month.

Copenhagen, Aug. 6.— Between February and August, an average of "slightly more" than three submarines were lost each month, an official statement from Berlin received here today stated.

Against these war losses, many more submarines were built, the statement said.

Will Meet Tomorrow Evening.

The Woman's Auxiliary to R. E. Lee Camp, will meet tomorrow night at 7:30 in the Confederate Veterans' building.

Fire did considerable damage to a small frame, unoccupied house located north of the Southern Railway Company's paint shop in the square bounded by Alfred, Patrick, Wilkes and Wolfe street, at a quarter to nine o'clock last night. The fire was first discovered on the roof of the building but its origin is not known.

The open air services being conducted by Evangelist F. E. Gibson, at Windmill Hill each evening at seven o'clock, are being very well attended, and all seem to be interested in the theme of the evangelist each evening. Another service will be held this evening at seven o'clock. All are cordially invited.

Mrs. Simpson's class of the Trinity Methodist church is spending today at Dripping Springs. Among those comprising the party are: Misses Edith Knight, Gladys Simpson, Massie Knight, Ellen Spellman, Mary Knight, Anna Grover, Evelyn Simpson, Pearl Stewart, Lorene Bradshaw, Rosalie Clark, Margaret Simpson, Margaret Smith and Marion Morrison.

William J. Bradley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. Bradley, 507 north Royal street, died at the Alexandria hospital yesterday morning at one o'clock from typhoid fever. He had been ill about three weeks. Previous to his illness he had been employed as a brakeman at the Potomac railroad yards. The remains were removed to Wheatley's undertaking rooms and the funeral will be held tomorrow morning at 9:30 from St Mary's Catholic church.

Robert Ellicott and wife have sold to Margaretta Nalls three lots in block 14 at Braddock Heights.

Albert V. Bryan has returned from a trip to Atlantic City, Buffalo, Quebec, and Boston.

The lady managers of the Alexandria hospital request the Gazette to announce that they have one room in the new hospital building which they would be pleased to have taken by some person or association either as a memorial room or an endowed one. Particulars as to the cost may be obtained from Miss Mattie Klipstein or from Miss Carter, the Superintendent. They also announce that the new building will soon be thrown open for inspection by the public, completely finished and furnished.

Arthur Dixon, about fifty years old, died this morning at the National Cemetery at Arlington, where he was employed. The deceased lived in the Braddock House until recently, and formerly held a position at the Potomac railroad yards. He is survived by a wife and child and also a sister, Miss Fanny Dixon. He was the son of the late John A. Dixon. It was reported that Mr. Dixon had dropped dead, but no confirmation of this report was available up to the hour the Gazette went to press. The burial will take place in this city.

Practically all the Alexandrians in training at the Fort Myer reserve officers' training camp, it is understood, have been recommended to the War Department by the officers in charge of the camp for commissions in the field artillery and infantry sections of the reserve corps, and in some cases it has been stated for what rank of officer the men have been recommended. Official appointments have not been made yet, however, but will be announced in a few days, by the department. The Alexandrians at the training camp have made an enviable record for themselves in most instances it is stated, which their many friends will be gratified to learn.

The Allison W. C. T. U. will meet this evening at 7:30 in the Children's Home.

Mrs. Esther Woomert has returned from a stay of several weeks in Philadelphia and Reading, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Dickinson and Mrs. Esther Woomert will leave tomorrow for an automobile trip through the valley of Virginia.

The ladies' auxiliary of the Old Dominion Boat Club will give another dance Saturday evening at the boat house at the foot of Duke street.

Company B of the Alexandria home guards will hold a drill at the armory this evening at 8 o'clock. Every member is asked to be present.

Mrs. Gilbert M. Seewald, of Memphis, Tenn., is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Robert S. Barrett, at her home on Duke street. Mrs. Kate Waller Barrett has returned from a visit to her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Alfriend, in Atlanta, Ga.

Orders are expected any day now ordering the Alexandria Light Infantry to Camp McClellan, Anniston, Ala., where they will receive training with other State troops before being sent to France. It is expected that the local soldiers will be leaving in at least by a week or ten days. Officers of the company expect the remainder of the equipment requisitioned from the quartermaster's department at an early date. A large part of the outfit has already been received, but the company has not gotten the new uniforms for its "rookies" yet.

TO POLICE RAILROAD PROPERTY

Strategic Points Will Not be Left Unguarded When Local Troops Are Withdrawn.

Railroad and public property of strategical importance in Virginia will not be left unguarded, according to plans now being mapped out by the Department of the East, which, with the help of Adjutant-General W. W. Sale is making a survey of all points where damage would delay or inconvenience military movements, whether of men or supplies. Troops now guarding these important points are to be relieved within a few days by others, the Fourth Provisional Brigade, of New York, having been designated to police the entire district under the supervision of the department.

Virginia, Maryland, New Jersey and regular army troops are now on duty in Virginia. These commands must be withdrawn, however, in time to prepare for movement to Camp McClellan, Anniston, Alabama, where the Twenty-ninth Division will receive its war training. Some of the troops have been quietly withdrawn and the work taken up by private guards, as the government will not attempt to protect private property, the loss of which would not affect the military situation, and which should be guarded by its owners.

Discuss War Tasks.

The twenty-ninth annual convention of the National Association of Railway Commissioners is to be held in Washington, beginning October 16.

The chief subject for discussions, according to the call, will be active co-operation of the association "in the matter of Federal control over the operation of railroads to meet military and industrial requirement."

The demands of carriers for increased rates and curtailment of service to meet war conditions, and the demands of the public for reasonable rates will likewise be discussed.

ORDERED OUT OF TOWN.

Negro Beggar From Baltimore Arrested in Rosemont for Vagrancy.

Officer Thompson yesterday arrested a negro, who gave his name as Arthur Devine, for vagrancy. He was walking lame and intercepting people at the union passenger station and Rosemont, and placing the following legend in their faces:

To Whom It May Concern:—
I am a poor helpless cripple far away from home and mother. Won't you who are well and strong contribute something towards sending me back home. Anything you can do I will be thankful for, and the Good Lord will bless you. I am trying to get to Baltimore, Md. If you will help me I shall be greatly obliged to you, for you know the Lord loves a cheerful giver. One of your own may be in the same plight some day trying to get back to his mother. Anything you can do will be more than appreciated and may God bless you.
ARTHUR DEVINE.

Devine was brought before the Police Court this morning when the officer stated that he had five or six dollars in his pocket. The prisoner said he was from Baltimore. He was given a reasonable time in which to shake the dust of the city.

COOLER DAYS THIS WEEK.

Showers and Atmospheric Phenomena Predicted for Week.

Refreshing respite from the extreme torrid heat of the past week is seen in the general weekly weather forecast for this section for the present week. Nothing stronger than "moderately warm weather" will be suffered by residents of this section, in fact, according to late reports.

Showers and atmospheric phenomena which this section has not drawn for many days, are scheduled for either today or tomorrow, although the remainder of the week, from present indications, will be generally fair.

About Wednesday the temperature may drop slightly, the Weather Bureau reports.

PORT OF NEW YORK CLOSED.

Periscope Said to Have Been Seen by Liner Eight Miles From Harbor.

New York, Aug. 6.—The port of New York was officially closed to outgoing and incoming shipping for five hours today, following reports that a German submarine was prowling off the harbor.

The report was sent to Government port officials by a British liner approaching the Atlantic coast. The first message said that the periscope of a U-boat had been plainly seen about eight miles due east of Sandy Hook light.

The submarine net which guards New York bay was lowered at 1 a. m. and kept lowered until 6 a. m. Strict orders kept vessels from entering the harbor.

Killed by Posse.

Holdenville, Okla., Aug. 6.—J. F. Moose, of Okemah, was shot and killed by members of the armed posse guarding this town from attack by anti-draft rioters early today when he attempted to pass a guard of citizens.

Moose was in an automobile and failed to heed the command to halt. He was struck by buckshot and rifle balls and died a few minutes later.

There was no evidence that Moose had any connection with the rioters.

Teutons' Peace Terms

Amsterdam, Aug. 6.—Reports that peace terms will be announced in Berlin and Vienna in the not distant future were strengthened by an article today in the Visscherij Courant. After citing other testimony this paper says:

"We saw a letter today from a big German manufacturer who has often visited the Kaiser, saying that peace can be expected speedily. Another German of considerable importance declared that Germany does not intend beginning a new winter campaign, because the country is unable to carry it through."

TURNED OVER TO COUNTY

Negro Arrested by Special Officer Saturday Night for Violating the Prohibition Law.

Special Officer Beatty, of the Washington Southern Railway Company, on Saturday night arrested Douglas Jones, colored, on the charge of violating the prohibition law. He was placed in the station house in this city and yesterday turned over to officers of Alexandria county.

In the Police Court of this city this morning the names of five persons appeared on the blotter to answer the charge of drunkenness. Three forfeited their collateral by failing to appear, the fourth was dismissed, the delinquent promising to leave the city, and the case of the fifth was continued until tomorrow.

Edward Corbin, colored, was charged with creating a disturbance on an electric train last night. He was anxious to engage in a fight with a colored man named Roberts. The conductor and trolleyman of the train were the material witnesses against the negro. He was fined $5.

Ferdinand Carter, colored, charged with assaulting his wife, was dismissed, the complainant failing to appear.

Several other minor cases were disposed of.

EVANGELISTIC MEETINGS.

Judge Barley and Rev. F. E. Gibson Deliver Discourses on Windmill Hill.

A number of persons gather every Sunday evening on Windmill Hill, on south Lee street, where evangelistic meetings are conducted by the Laymen's League of this city, and Rev. F. E. Gibson, of the Seventh Day Adventist Church. The first meeting is held at five o'clock and the second at seven.

Judge Barley yesterday afternoon delivered a practical and interesting discourse on love. Mr. Gibson later spoke on the 12th chapter of the book of Revelation—the mystical woman. His address was also interesting.

Windmill Hill was for many years the scene of political gatherings. As far back as 1860 there was a demonstration there in the interests of Bell and Everett, the constitutional union candidates. In 1876 a flag pole was erected on the hill which bore a streamer with the names of "Tilden and Hendricks." In 1880 another was thrown to the breeze with the names of "Hancock and English" upon it. William Jennings Bryan had his name upon streamer three times in the space of a few years. Instead of being the scene of political wrangles the place is now used by heralds of the gospel.

AUTO CRASHES

Cavalryman From Fort Myer Killed Saturday Night.

Two motor cycles crashed into a truck, loaded with vegetables, on its way to St. Asaph's camp Saturday night, and injured the four cycle riders and two occupants of the automobile. The accident occurred on the road to the Arlington experiment station, just on the the other side of the Highway bridge.

Most seriously injured was a colored woman, whose name was not learned, who was severely cut, bruised and unconscious.

One cavalryman from Fort Myer was killed and four other cavalrymen were badly injured when an automobile skidded, dashed into a telegraph pole and overturned on Conduit road about a mile west of the District of Columbia line a little before midnight Saturday night.

Otis Vinning of Troop D was killed. His skull was fractured and he died before he reached Georgetown University Hospital.

TO ELECT A GOVERNOR

Democratic Primary Tomorrow Brings to Close Uneventful Races for Governor and Other Positions.

The stage is set for the climax of the big fight which the three candidates for the governorship of Virginia have been making, and tomorrow the Democratic voters of the state will go to the polls to make their choice. Officially tomorrow's election is only a Democratic primary, but in this state, which is the stronghold of democracy, nomination at the primary means election to office.

The present gubernatorial contest had been one full of apathy until a few weeks ago Pollard and Davis got busy and started a scrap among themselves about each other's right to the position of governor, and until the anti-saloon league of Virginia split over Ellyson and Pollard, both prohibition candidates, and stipulated that one must withdraw from the race in order to defeat Westmoreland Davis, wet. The anti-saloon league has now come out strong for Ellyson.

It goes without saying that Ellyson will poll the largest vote in this city and present indications are that he will have the State majority when the returns are completed.

Besides a Governor other State officials will be elected tomorrow. Local city officials, having had no opposition for nomination for re-election, have recently been declared nominees of the party by the city Democratic committee.

Voting Precints.

Owing to the occupation of the armory, where the polls for the first ward are usually established, by the Alexandria Light Infantry, now in Federal service; the election authorities in this city have had trouble over securing election headquarters for the First ward booths. The building formerly occupied by the Alexandria Gazette on Prince street has now been secured, according to announcement by the committee.

Four vacancies, two among the judges and two among the clerks of election, in the officials for the four wards, exist at present, but will be filled by tomorrow. These vacancies are divided between the first and second wards. The list of judges and clerks, with the place where the election will be held, for each of the four wards, is as follows:

First ward, old Gazette building, Charles P. Waller and Norris Rowland, judges; Frank Moore, clerk.

Second ward, store formerly occupied by F. Calmes, Hugh Moss and Fred H. Schneider, judges; Conrad Schwab, clerk.

Third ward, 816 Queen street, W. F. Penn, William Hinken, and Fred Kars, judges; John Fisher and James B. Martin, clerks.

Fourth ward, Friendship engine house, C. M. Lennon, Arthur Downey, and Leonard Chesser, judges; T. Lee Fannon and John S. Igoe, clerks.

The following officials are to be elected in tomorrow's balloting:

Governor. Candidates are J. Taylor Ellyson, now lieutenant-governor; John Garland Pollard, now attorney-general; Westmoreland Davis, the "Farmer" candidate.

Attorney-general. Candidates, John R. Saunders and Hugh A. White.

Secretary of the Commonwealth. Candidates, R. O. James, incumbent, and Philip E. Brown.

Superintendent of Public Instruction. Candidates, R. C. Stearnes, incumbent, and Harris Hart.

Local city officials which have been declared the nominees by the city Democratic committee, having no opposition, are as follows:

City treasurer, Thomas W. Robinson.

Tax collector, P. F. Gorman.

Auditor, E. F. Price.

Clerk of gas, J. B. Waller.

Commissioner of revenue, C. H. Callahan.

Commonwealth's attorney, S. G. Brent.

Corporation attorney, H. Neel Garner.

City sergeant, R. H. Cox.

Inspector of lumber, S. C. Swain.

Inspector of wood, Carter H. Smith.

City and county representative to House of Delegates, W. A. Smoot.

ELECTION TOMORROW

Before tomorrow's sunset, the Democratic voters of Virginia, in the first primary held under the new pure elections laws, will have nominated their candidates for Governor, Attorney-General, Secretary of the Commonwealth and Superintendent of Public instruction. Yesterday passed without developments. All three gubernatorial candidates laid plans for last-moment efforts today in a final whirlwind campaign to swing over as many voters as possible. Optimistic statements were issued last night from the headquarters of the candidates.

All other contests have been overshadowed by the three-cornered fight for the gubernatorial nomination between J. Taylor Ellyson, Lieutenant-Governor of Virginia; John Garland Pollard, Attorney-General, and Westmoreland Davis, with supporters of each of the three candidates declaring that their respective men will win the nomination.

While the campaign practically closed Saturday night, workers in the interest of each were busy throughout yesterday and last night, and further plans were laid for today and tonight. The situation is complex, the outcome admittedly doubtful, and indications are that much will depend upon eleventh-hour efforts that are now under way in behalf of each candidate.

In the heat of campaign, it sometimes happens that the friends of rival candidates indulge in all sorts of unfounded charges against their opponents, especially at the eleventh hour when there is no time for investigation and discussion. There hav have been some acrimonious exchanges between two of the gubernatorial candidates, though Mr. Ellyson, with commendable dignity and courage, has declined to engage in that sort of activity.

Regardless of what the candidates themselves may do or say, however well they may restrain themselves, some of their enthusiastic friends may break over today or tomorrow or even as late as Tuesday with some sort of scandalous story, intended to sway the unthinking and thus shift a few votes.

We hope the new pure election law may prove all that its framers desired.

WHO IS ENTITLED TO VOTE.

As the primary election to nominate a democratic candidate for governor will hold the interest of our readers tomorrow, we publish for their information the law of Virginia defining who is entitled to vote in such primary elections. The statute says:

"No person shall be permitted to vote for the candidates of any party unless in the last next preceeding election he voted for the presidential electors nominated by such party, or for the nominee of the house of representatives of such party, or the nominee of such party for governor for the house of delegates; provided further, that if he did not vote at such general election, then upon his declaration that he will support at the ensuing election the nominee of the party in whose primary he wishes to vote, he shall be allowed to vote.

"Any person offering to vote at a primary upon challenge shall be sworn by one of the judges of the primary and if he knowingly makes any false statement as to any matter material to his right to vote, he shall be deemed guilty or perjury, and, upon conviction, shall be punished accordingly."

It is probably that the friends of the different candidates who desire to maintain the integrity of the democratic primary in order to obtain the true choice of the democrats as the standard bearer in the general election this fall, will challenge any republican who may offer to vote.

PROSPECTS FOR PEACE.

By far the most momentous event of the war in the political field is now developing in Germany. According to advices reaching Paris, not since August, 1914, has anything so pregnant with consequences occurred as the summoning by the kaiser of the crown council in Berlin and the issuance of the imperial rescript granting equal suffrage to the people of Prussia.

The first tep toward peace has been taken. The kaiser is submitting to the inevitable. With the consent of his heir, the crown prince, he is throwing overboard the semi-absolutism of the Hohenzollerns, and is making it possible for Germany to get into line with the democracies of the world. And in so doing he is at the same time making it possible for the world's democracies to make peace with Germany with no hidden fear of future aggression, and with a complete riddance of the haunting sceptre of heavy armaments.

As enlightened Parisians see things, what has happened is that the last citadel of feudalism in Europe is down and Germany is setting her house in order in view of an early peace. Every one agrees that it is a step towards peace.

Deputy Mathias Erzberger, of the German Reichstag, according to the newspaper Liberte of Friburg, is carrying on the same intrigues and peace propaganda in Switzerland as were conducted previously by Prince von Buelow, former German chancellor.

On Saturday, the newspaper says, he received calls from many neutrals here. His efforts to get in touch with representatives in Berne of the Entente Allies are said to have been unsuccessful so far.

Washington officialdom believes that the end of the war is not far off. The White House and the State, War and Navy Departments are almost hourly being confirmed in their impression that the German bolt has been shot.

Many American officials are predicting an early peace.

The Washington Herald this morning suggested that in the midst of the new and damning proof that the German Emperor, bullied by the military caste, decreed the red deluge which is tearing asunder the fabric of civilization, we see new evidence that he wants peace, in 1917, as badly as he wanted war in 1914.

Why does he want it? Because it would serve a German purpose to have it now. Because Germany must have it; because otherwise Germany falls. Nineteen hundred and eighteen will be too late. She will be a spent runner then, unable longer to draw upon her second wind, flogging her nerves to a final desperate effort. She has staked her whole success on her ability to gain a peace from her enemies before next spring. It becomes increasingly apparent that she will fail.

ON VERGE OF BREAKDOWN.

Carl W. Akerman in a book entitled "Germany, the Next Republic," says that Germany is on the verge of a nervous breakdown. "Men and women, business men and generals, long ago lost their patience. They are depressed, distressed, suffering and anxious for peace. There have been more cases of nervous breakdowns among the people during the last year than at any time in Germany's history. There have been so many suicides that the newspapers are forbidden to publish them. There have been so many losses on the battlefields that every family has been affected not once, but two, three and four times. Dance halls have been closed. Cafes and hotels must stop serving meals by 11 o'clock. Theatres are presenting the most sullen plays.

"The Kaiser has studied war psychology. He and his ministers know that one thing keeps the German people fighting—their hope of ultimate victory; their belief that they have won already. The Kaiser knows, too, from day to day by new victories, by reports of many prisoners, of new territory gained, of enemy ships torpedoed, or by promises of reforms after the war, the public will continue fighting.

"So the Kaiser gambles from day to day with his people's nerves. For two years he has done this, and for two years he has been supported by a 12,000,000 man-power army and a larger army of workers and women at home. The Kaiser believes he can gamble for a long time yet with his people."

VALUE OF OUR INTERVENTION

(Richmond Times-Dispatch)

Unless the admissions of entente statesmen are designed to flatter us, the allied cause was on the verge of defeat when we entered the war. Evidence of this fact accumulates daily. We see it in the effect of the submarine campaign. We see it in the plight of Russia. We see it in the enforced inactivity of Italy, and we see it in the economic condition of France. More than that, it is virtually confessed in the candid statements of the men who control the destinies of the allied governments.

Sir Edward Carson, speaking for the British ministry, says that America's participation in the conflict removes all doubts as to the defeat of Germany. General Maurice, of the British War Office, says that "the United States is today the general reserve of the entente." Premier Ribot shows that victory depends in large measure upon American cooperation. These things could hardly have been publicly declared without the conviction on the part of these spokesmen that they were in desperate straights when Germany stupidity and German barbarity forced us to cast our fortunes with the allies.

Notwithstanding all that has been published in the newspapers concerning the matter it will be difficult for many people to realize that this country is really at war until an attack has been made upon our shores. Perhaps some more of them will wake up then.

According to report the United States will purchase from two hundred and fifty to five hundred thousand horses for use in the war. And yet there were people who predicted that the automobiles would do away with horses a few years ago.

From Lakewood, Ohio, comes the report that a law has gone into effect there requiring that cats be registered and that beginning with July 2d last all of them wear a collar and a bell and the owner must pay a license of fifty cents. What a ringing of bells there would be in this old town of Alexandria if such a law was in force here.

KERENSKY IN SADDLE.

Russian Premier Returns to Post at Combined Request of all Factions. Gains Prestige by Resignation Coup.

Petrograd, Aug. 6.—Premier Kerensky has won a decisive victory over the discordant political elements. Today he returned to his post at Petrograd at the invitation of all the warring parties, withdrew his resignation, and announced a policy of blood and iron in the conduct of the affairs of Russia.

Votes of confidence in the young premier have been given by the council of workmen, soldiers and peasants, by the political council made up of the prominent industrial and political leaders, and the Duma committee.

All the forces of the Russian nation are lined up behind the leader, who has gained marked prestige through his resignation coup.

Premier Kerensky, who is also war minister, and as such commander-in-chief of the armies, has announced that he considers his vindication at the hands of the various councils an express order from the nation for a continuance of drastic policies toward traitors and seditionists.

Death to intriguers and deserters is the order of the day.

The portfolios of all members of the ministry are in the hands of Kerensky. Radicals and conservatives in the numerous political parties, awed by the advancing legions of Germans, the disorganization of the armies, and the industrial demands of the laboring classes, have declared unequivocally, to stand behind the dictator.

Resumption of power by the Premier also means a cessation of the talk of separate peace.

THE SCEPTERED TYRANT.

(Henry Edward Warner in the Richmond Times-Dispatch.)

Upon a throne sunk deep in tears
A sceptered tyrant swings
His two-edged sword at human fears,
And scoffs at sacred things.
His field of carnage stretches wide;
Be crimsoned waves roll with the tide
And traitors with his soldiers ride
Where Death its requiem sings.

Fair fields of France, O stricken land!
Sown deep with hatred's seed,
A sorry harvest it at hand
Where countless thousands bleed!
Broad acres tilled with bursting shells,
Men hurled into an hundred hells!
Yet in the tolling of the bells
There rings a higher creed!

That Thing was Man, which yonder lies!
A shapeless, broken clod!
The blood of Belgian children cries
From bleeding Belgian sod.
And all the power that Nature hath
To stir humanity to wrath
Shall sweep this tyrant from its path,
For over all—is God!

ADMITS BRITAIN RULES SEAS.

German Fleet Unable to Meet English, Expert Says.

Copenhagen, Aug. 6.—Captain Perseus, naval expert of the Berliner Tageblatt, says the superiority of the British fleet, despite heavy losses, is great enough to justify its claim that it controls the seas. The German fleet is unequal to meet it.

The high seas fleet, in conjunction with the coast defense guns, submarines, mines, etc., will undoubtedly be able to beat off all attacks and keep the enemy from the coast, but he adds warningly, German minds should give no room to views of an offensive activity of the fleet.

Captain Perseus says that every intelligent German realizes that unrestricted submarining must be conducted with all energy until England realizes it is more profitable to discuss peace than to accept further losses, but on the other hand he warns against super-optimism for a too speedy success in the submarine war.

AUTO CRASH FATAL TO SIX.

Seventh of Party Mortally Hurt on Tennessee Crossing.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Aug. 6.—Five persons were instantly killed and two others fatally injured Saturday afternoon when the automobile in which they were riding was struck by a passenger train on the Tennessee Central railroad at Crossville, Tenn.

Jack Highfield, merchant, who was driving the automobile, Mrs. Rosa Cox, Mrs. William Hedgecough, Mrs. Phillip Vanhoy and Miss Mabel Dayton were crushed to death, and Miss Dorothy Dayton was so badly injured she died shortly after the accident occurred. Miss Ethel Hughes, another occupant of the car, received injuries from which she cannot recover.

CHINA BOWING TO JAPANESE.

Will Declare War on Germany and Seize all Hun Business Houses. Subverts American Advice.

Peking, Aug. 6.—China is bowing to Japanese dominance. She is about to declare war on Germany, and close all German business houses.

The developments here are rapidly approaching a crisis. Feng Kuo Chang is en route to Peking from Nanking. He is the man who is behind the scheme engineered by outside infleunce—Japan. In return for a $50,000,000 loan at 10 per cent from Tokyo, it is understood that the Feng government will turn over the arsenals, navy and military to Japanese influence and leadership.

The declaration of war will be made without consulting Parliament, it is understood. Germans will be seized and interned and their commercial houses and banks closed.

The course of the Chinese government is bound to encourage the already widespread discontent and dissension throughout the country. It completely subverts the words of advice contained in the American note which caused such a sensation in Japan.

The whole scheme is dictatorial in trend, but it is understood the Cabinet has agreed to go through with it.

PREDICT EARLY VICTORY.

Lloyd George Speaks Optimistically at Patriotic Meeting in London.

London, Aug. 6.—Europe, bled white by a three years' war, many of her cities in ruins, her people burdened by debts of billions which this generation nor the next will never pay, is turning again to thoughts of peace and rehabilitation.

This today became more than ever evident. The word which has been breathed for three years only in the secrecy of Europe's chancelleries is now being openly discussed in public by leaders of the warring nations. David Lloyd George, British Prime Minister, flatly predicts an early victory. He was speaking Saturday before a great patriotic meeting in Queen's Hall commemorative of the third anniversary of the war. In Berlin, Chancellor Michaelis, back from an interview with the Emperor of Austria, who is known to be anxious to the point of impatience for peace, while conceding that peace prospects were not promising, hinted that "unexpected developments" might make a sudden change in the outlook.

Germany, meanwhile, is completing the reorganization of her Cabinet—the so-called "peace Cabinet" of the "peace Chancellor," Michaelis.

Dispatches from Rome indicate that the Vatican is seriously considering throwing the whole of its political weight into the scales for the allies, the continued deportations of Belgians by Germany being regarded as unbearable by the Pope.

Vienna continues to inspire peace talk. The Emperor is anxious for any sort of an agreement which will guarantee the empire its former boundaries. This desire is inspired, it is believed, by the fact that Austria-Hungary is rapidly nearing the end of her resources—human, financial and industrial. Hungary today is declared in Swiss dispatches to have raised the age limit of her armies to fifty-two years, all the Landsturm under that age being called to the colors. But the most important pronouncement of the day by far is that of Lloyd George. The Premier's own words on peace are:

"The sunshine of victory is just appearing for the allies."

AMERICAN SENTENCED.

Naturalized Citizen Given Three Years in Breslau Prison for Restaurant Utterances.

Berlin, Aug. 6.—A naturalized American citizen who calls himself John Patterson has been sentenced to three years' imprisonment in Breslau for cursing the German government, the Emperor and the military leaders, especially Hindenburg.

The culprit is a native German, despite his English name, which he adopted after his emigration to the United States. His real name is Heinrich Ossweber. About twenty years ago he left his native town in Silesia and went to America. Shortly before the present war he returned with means enough to live comfortably. As he was above military age and an American citizen, he was not molested, and even received permission to remain after the break between the United States and Germany came.

Lately he began to drink heavily, and got himself into trouble repeatly by anti-German utterances. During one of his sprees he created a scene in a restaurant by proclaiming himself an American, calling the Kaiser and his miniisters a gang of murderers and criminals and declaring that the American army would lick and capture Hindenburg and hang him. When three policemen and several citizens tried to arrest him, he fought like a maniac, and it took the combined strength of a half-dozen men to subdue him. The police believed him crazy, and he was sent to an asylum for observation, but several alienists who examined him pronounced him sane enough to be responsible for his actions.

TO BREAK UP DYE MONOPOLY

Du Ponts Formally Announces Entry Into Coal Tar Color Industry on a Huge Scale.

Wilmington, Del., Aug. 5.—The expected formal announcement of entrance of the duPonts into the coal tar dye industry has been made. It is accepted as proof that the business in this country is about to be put on a solid basis, and that any after-the-war efforts which Germany may make to regain her lead in the color field are foredoomed to failure.

The duPont plans have been well laid, and their announcement that prices will be based upon "cost of raw materials and labor" indicate that the big combinations of dye and chemical industries recently formed will be met with a hard fight for commercial supremacy.

Building of an extensive plant has been begun at Deepwater Point, N. J., adjoining the company's already large chemical department. It is expected that before many months this plant will be ready for the "progressive development" promised in the formal announcement.

K. OF C. FUND OVER MILLION

Catholics Generous in Giving For Soldiers and Sailors.

Chicago, Aug. 6.—The $1,000,000 fund being raised by the Knights of Columbus for the relief and recreation of Roman Catholic soldiers and sailors has been greatly oversubscribed, according to James A. Flaherty, Supreme Knight, and the Supreme Council will consider increasing the amount to $5,000,000 when they meet in annual convention here tomorrow.

"Our plans for the erection of the recreation camps at the various military cantonments have been greatly increased, so we need three or even five times the original amount," Mr. Flaherty said today.

"Indiana, Pennsylvania, New York and, in fact, every state in the Union has subscribed more than the amount asked it, and will contribute more if needed. New York's contribution to date is $125,000. More than $1,000,000 in contracts already has been let."

HER MILLIONS VANISHED

Mrs. De Saulles Had But $150,000 When She Wed Man She Killed.

Mineola, N. Y., Aug. 6.—Mrs. Bianca Errasuriz De Saulles, who is in the county jail here charged with first degree murder for shooting her former husband, John Longer De Saulles, was not heiress to millions at the time of her marriage, as was generally believed, but possessed a fortune of only $150,000, according to a statement made last night by Henry A. Utterhert, her attorney.

The lawyer declared that the marital difficulties of Mr. and Mrs. De Saulles, which led to a divorce decree for her, began soon after she learned that the vast Chilean fortune she had expected to inherit had been squandered by relatives, and that her wealth was only a fraction of what it had been reputed.

In his statement Utterhart alleged that De Saulles had obtained $47,000 from his wife after their marriage, $37,000 in cash and $10,000 in bonds, which he spent. He declared his client had been told by friends that De Saulles borrowed the money with which he went abroad to marry her in Paris. Mrs. De Saulles now is worth only $63,000, the lawyer said.

Utterhart detailed many incidents which he claimed had caused Mrs. De Saulles to break down in health and spirits.

Reverting to the night of the shooting, the attorney declared that when Mrs. De Saulles started in quest of her 4-year-old son, who had gone to visit his father, she did not expect to find her former husband at home. It evidently was her plan, Utterhart said, to carry off the boy before De Saulles returned from his club, where he was supposed to be dining. She had been told by the De Saulles butler over the telephone, the lawyer declared, that Mr. De Saulles was not at home. She then started for the De Saulles cottage, hoping to reach there before he returned.

Utterhart asserted that Mrs. De Saulles took a revolver with her for protection on her motor ride over lonely roads in the dark and that she had no intention of shooting De Saulles until he refused to return her son to her.

KAISER BACK AT CAPITAL

Receives Reports From Chancellor And Chief of General Staff.

Copenhagen, Aug. 6.—Emperor William and Empress Augusta Victoria arrived in the capital yesterday, according to a dispatch received here from Berlin. The Emperor received reports from the Chancellor and the Chief of the General Staff.

An informal reception was held in the Reichstag building Saturday, the anniversary of the sitting of August 4, 1914, when Emperor William opened the Imperial Parliament and informed the members of the declaration of war by Great Britain and France on Germany.

The president of the Reichstag, Dr. Johannes Kaempff, reviewed Germany's war efforts and declared that the country's enemies were responsible for rejecting Germany's peace offering. He said Germany now would fight until she obtained a peace guaranteeing the security of the empire.

Lieut.-Gen. Baron von Freytag-Loringhoven, chief of the Supplementary General Staff, explained the military situation on land and sea, and prominent representatives of th world's commerce and industry also addressed the House.

The Imperial Chancellor, Dr. Michaelis, then arose and said, in part:

"We all know what we want. We will hand our patrimony intact to the future generations. We will guarantee our children and grandchildren against the misfortune of a war like this. We will preserve our country by a strong and wise peace in order that the German race may retain sure ground for its healthy and vigorous development.

"The gentlemen who preceded me showed that our strength is not paralyzed; that our will is as strong as it was in 1914. The heaviest sacrifices deserve the highest reward. Let us swear fidelity to the Emperor and the empire. Long live the Fatherland, the Emperor and the empire!"

AMERICAN MISSION

Elihu Root Expresses Abiding Faith In Triumph of Russian Democracy.

A Pacific Port, August 6.—Faith in the ability of Russia to overcome her difficulties and perpetuate a great and free democracy was expressed Saturday by Elihu Root, head of the American mission to Russia, in a speech delivered at a luncheon here in honor of the return of the mission. The members of the party landed here late Saturday night. They left today for Washington.

"I have abiding faith that Russia, through trial and tribulation, will work out, create and perpetuate a great, free, self-governing democracy," Mr. Root said. in his address.

Professing a sincere admiration for the kindly character of the Russian people, "considerate of the rights and feelings of others, and with a high capacity for self-control and a noble idealism, heading always in a better way toward higher things," he pleaded for deep sympathy for the nation, "which is struggling with the problems that we have been studying for 140 years and have not yet solved."

FRANCE IN GOOD CONDITION.

Republic Has 3,000,000 Men in Field and Can Keep Them There for Years.

France, the nation that suffered brunt of the war at the beginning, has 3,000,000 men in the battle zone today. This is 1,000,000 more than rushed to the colors when the Teuton machine surged on towards Belgium.

She can maintain this number effectively for several years to come. France, although unprepared and in the midst of war, so co-ordinated her industries that now her production of munitions is almost inexhaustible even by the present employment of unheard of quantities.

While doing this for herself the remarkable nation has completely re-equipped and re-armed the Belgian, Serbian and Greek armies.

Complete exposition of this wonderful work of France has been given to Secretary of War Baker by M. Andre Tardieu, high commissioner of the French republic, and made public today.

After being enmeshed in the submarine net at Hampton Roads for more than 32 hours, the steamer Kershaw, of the Merchants and Miners' Transportation Company, was freed early yesterday morning. Three tugs and several divers assisted in sawing off the steel meshes. With 57 passengers aboard for Boston, the Kershaw plunged into the steel net and became hopelessly enmeshed Friday midnight, while attempting to enter Norfolk harbor. The guards on the net wound around the propeller, the rudder and steering gear and in a short time the Kershaw was helpless. In answer to its distress signales, a fleet of naval vessels and ocean tugs went to the assistance of the steamer.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

The military situation in Germany is said to be as desperate as the food situation. Germany is badly circumstanced on her right flank. Her strategists frankly admit that the battle in Flanders is a life and death struggle. Unless the French and British are kept back, the submarine bases in Belgium will be destroyed. Germany's greatest weapon, the submarine, could not be used with such deadly effect, and it might be impossible for the Germans to remain in Belgium or northern France.

Labor disturbances among the shipbuilding trades in all parts of the country are assuming such serious proportions that there is much apprehension in Washington over their possible effect upon the government's war program. It is reported that there are 12,000 men on strike in New York alone and that there is much unrest in other Atlantic coast plants. The difficulties arise mainly out of the efforts of the leaders to take advantage of the unprecedented demand for skilled laborers to weld them together into organizations.

The reply is expected within eight days. During this time it will be decided if relations with Germany shall be broken, if the response from the German foreign office is a negative one.
